

Judge Deals Sentences at Helena

By JOHN R. STARR

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Municipal Judge D. S. Heslep declared today that civil rights organizations should teach Negroes the desirability of bathing regularly and observing the sanctity of marriage rather than promote anti-segregation demonstrations.

So saying, Heslep fined two field secretaries of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee $300 each and gave each a suspended 30-day sentence in connection with two demonstrations in which 32 persons were arrested in Helena last Saturday.

Heslep rebuked the two men — William Hansen Jr., 24, of Pine Bluff, Ark., and John Bradford, 22, of Mound Bayou, Miss., for 10 minutes before pronouncing sentence.

He said he would put Helena against any city in the nation for smoothness of race relations "except for a few outside agitators and red-necks who would mistreat anybody."

"These people (Negroes) need help," Heslep said, "but they don't need your kind of help. They need people to teach them to think, talk and act like human beings."

Heslep told George Howard Jr., state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and attorney for the defendants, "The unfortunate thing about the racial situation is that the rest of them (the Negroes) don't come educated and well-dressed like you."

Howard, Hansen and Bradford sat in stony silence during the judge's discourse. Howard then filed a notice of appeal and the appeal bond was set at $750 each.

Heslep said he was suspending the jail sentences to show that he had no ill will. He put each man on one year's probation. They were charged with encouraging breach of peace.

Howard and Bradford are Negroes. Hansen, formerly of Cincinnati, is a white man who is married to a Negro.

Heslep said he did not know

Accused of Bank Embezzlement

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bobby Frank Mounser, 21, an assistant cashier at the Bank of Arkansas, was released without bond Tuesday after being arrested on a federal complaint of embezzling $22,042 from the bank.

Roy K. Moore, FBI special agent, said Mounser was arrested on a complaint signed by U.S. Atty. Robert D. Smith Jr. Mounser was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner John Coates, Moore said.

The FBI said Mounser, who is married and has one child, was charged with embezzling funds over a three-year period.

Declares Jobs Have to Be Provided

NEW YORK (AP) — Millionaire businessman John I. Snyder Jr. says the United States faces great social upheaval if it can't provide jobs for men replaced by machines.

Warning of "really staggering" unemployment, Snyder urged the AFL-CIO Tuesday to join with the federal government and the National Association of Manufacturers to find a solution.

"I'd join with the devil himself if I could find the solution to this problem," said AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Meany and 1,200 AFL-CIO convention delegates gave Snyder a reception that was warm, although subdued, after a convention floor fight over readmitting the ostracized Teamsters Union.

Meany, with the help of most delegates, wielded a heavy gavel, in killing the move to consider taking back the Teamsters, ousted on corruption charges in 1957.

Snyder, president of U.S. Industries Inc., manufacturers of automation equipment, linked the civil rights movement and the growing unemployment problem, saying:

"The gap between the column of figures running down the balance sheet and the column of Negroes marching down an embattled street is a slim one indeed."

He described himself as no particular friend of labor, but said automation equipment puts thousands of people out of work every week, and added:

"I want to sell the automation machines my company makes, and if our economy turns sour, if the unemployment problem is not solved, I will have difficulty selling them."

The problem calls for a total effort by labor, management and government, Snyder said, and he favored a reduced work week as one of the answers.

Rain Covers Much of Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain which began in West Arkansas Tuesday night spread steadily eastward to cover the eastern portion of the state today.

Virtually the whole state got some rain in the past four days, and the moisture eased drought conditions and cut the forest fire threat.

Rain will continue intermittently in the central and eastern section of the state until tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

The forecast calls for cloudy to partly cloudy and mild today and tonight with occasional rain or showers ending in the west today and tonight with occasional rain or showers ending in the west today and in the east early Thursday.

Partly cloudy and mild was the outlook for Thursday with highs in the 60s. Lows tonight will be 36 to 46 in the north and 46 to 56 in the south.

Rainfall totaled nearly an inch at Fayetteville and ranged downward to .66 at Texarkana, .43 at El Dorado and Harrison and .19 at Keiser.

Mild air behind the cool front will allow temperatures to drop somewhat tonight.

Highs Tuesday were generally in the 60s north and 70s south, while overnight lows were in the mid 50s.

The five-day outlook calls for temperatures 5 to 10 degrees above normal, mild and cooler about Sunday. Rainfall will total a half-inch in showers during the weekend.

Field work is halted in the state, and the brief respite in rain Thursday and Friday will not be sufficient to dry out soils before showers move back into the state over the weekend.

Terrorism in Venezuela Leaves 19 Dead

By PAL FINCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police firing bazookas flushed snipers from buildings in downtown Caracas today as officials strove to quell pro-Communist violence that has left nearly 100 dead or wounded.

A woman was killed and six other persons, including a policeman, were wounded as fighting spread from the workers' suburbs to El Silencio, a district of modern business buildings.

Coming on the heels of Venezuela's worst day of terrorism Tuesday, the new casualties put the two-day toll at 20 killed and 76 wounded.

President Romulo Betancourt remained in his office throughout the night, directing the roundup of the terrorists by police, the army and national guard.

The number under arrest rose to 150, and police said most were Communist party members. Many were youths who wore black pants and red sweaters as a sort of uniform.

Among those held were 40 persons seized by troops Tuesday night for sniping at traffic.

With the return of quiet at dawn, business houses reopened and traffic returned to the streets.

Merchants shut down because of telephoned threats and motorists stayed home Tuesday when Castroite-Communist opponents of Betancourt abruptly stepped up their campaign to unseat him and disrupt the Dec. 2 election.

Catholic Attitude to Jews Backed

By GERALD T. MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A group of American prelates, led by Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, joined today in defense of proposed Roman Catholic declarations on Jews and religious liberty.

They called on the Vatican Ecumenical Council to adopt the disputed documents.

Moments later, the entire Swiss hierarchy of the Church added its support for the declaration on Jews, and said the council also should speak of "Moslems and all who believe in God in this age of atheism."

Cardinal Meyer was the first of the five American cardinals to speak on Christian unity. The proposed declarations on Jews and religious liberty are contained in a schema "on ecumenism," dealing with Christian unity.

The two declarations have been the main items of controversy since debate on the schema started Monday. Several bishops have criticized the insertion of the declarations into the schema, saying it should be limited to strictly Christian unity matters.

Several Middle East patriarchs have said the declaration on the Jews might have political implications in their Arab area.

No one has questioned the actual content of the declarations. The one on the Jews says they alone are not to blame for the crucifixion, but that all mankind is responsible. The statement on religious liberty upholds the right of individuals to worship God according to their consciences.

A council press spokesman reported Cardinal Meyer's remarks, paraphrasing him as saying:

"Both declarations must be dealt with in the council. They are intimately connected with the topic of ecumenism and should remain where they are."

He expressed firm hope for their approval.

The spokesman said he was speaking for himself and an unspecified number of U.S. prelates.

Bishop Giuseppe Jelmini, apostolic administrator of Lugano, spoke for the Swiss hierarchy. He said the declaration on the Jews was acceptable in the schema. The Swiss prelate also expressed approval of the declaration on religious liberty.

Again today, as in the past two days, there were arguments against having the declarations in the schema.

Apparently U.S. Officials Are Stunned as Cambodia Rejects Help of America

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian Foreign Ministry summoned U.S. Ambassador Philip D. Sprouse today, presumably to deliver orders from ruling Prince Norodom Sihanouk for an immediate end to the $30 million-a-year program of U.S. military and economic aid to his country.

Sihanouk announced his decision to a wildly cheering rally of his political party Tuesday. He charged U.S. aid was being used to undermine his regime and that rebel Cambodians based in South Viet Nam were using American equipment.

The prince said he did not want to sever diplomatic relations with the United States but that "all U.S. missions other than a skeleton diplomatic staff must go."

The State Department earlier Tuesday instructed Sprouse to inform the Cambodian government that the prince's charges were false. But Sihanouk apparently acted before the denial could be transmitted to him.

Work on U.S. aid projects actually halted yesterday after Sihanouk's speech. American officials said the various aid programs would be phased out as fast as possible.

Complacency Subject of Kiwanis Meet

"The great peril of our age is the tendency to let other people shoulder our burdens and responsibilities," Everett Slaton, Ouachita College professor told Hope Kiwanis club yesterday.

"To combat this complacency, we should take time out and evaluate the world and its problems, and then take a positive stand for what we really believe in and commit ourselves to follow through for the good things of life," Mr. Slaton continued.

Other Arkadelphia guests included Billy Ruggles, Sleepy Thompson, Dudley Borne, and Dr. Dave Luck.

The federal government will provide funds under the Area Redevelopment Act for the program. The state Education Department will conduct the classes.

Congolese Seize, Jail Red Diplomats

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Congolese security agents and gendarmes dragged two Soviet diplomats first from their car Tuesday, beat them with clubs and hauled them off to jail.

They were still held today. Soviet embassy officials said the diplomats were embassy counselor Boris Noronin and press attache Yuri Miakotnykh. The officials said they had no word on their fate.

Eyewitnesses said Noronin and Miakotnykh refused to allow the Congolese to search their car on their return from Brazzaville, across the Congo river. The diplomats claimed diplomatic immunity.

Soviet embassy officials said the Congolese also had cut the telephone and electric supply to the luxury apartment where the 100-man Soviet mission lives and works.

Sources close to the Congolese government hinted that "highly compromising" documents had been seized from the two arrested diplomats.

Gendarmes stood guard outside the embassy building Tuesday night, refusing to allow callers to enter.

House Passes Public Works Measure

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The first thing a family contemplating a move needs is a place to stay. For the industrialist, the problem is about the same.

To help industrialists considering moving to Arkansas, the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission is preparing a brochure listing available buildings for distribution to 6,500 of the "prospects" in its industrial file.

The first edition of the brochure is expected to come off the press in about three weeks. It will list six buildings—two at Malvern, one each at Russellville, West Memphis, Morrilton and Benton.

All except one of the buildings at Malvern were built for an industry that has ceased operations.

The buildings include a 10,000 square foot structure at Russellville vacated by Further Processing, Inc.; the old International Shoe Co. complex at Malvern which has 135,700 square feet in two structures; the Wheatley Industries building at Benton, 28,000 square feet; Crestview Boat Co. building at Morrilton, 31,320 square feet; Weyerhaeuser Co. building at West Memphis, 41,346 square feet.

The Malvern building not previously used by an industry has 18,000 square feet.

The brochure represents the first effort by the AIDC to interest industry in buildings in Arkansas before the industry indicated an interest in moving to Arkansas.

Floor plans will be included in the brochure, as will a list of such information as ceiling heights and availability of rail and truck service.

Another section of the loose-leaf brochure will contain information about the city where the building is located.

Professor Says Trouble Was Set Up

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington (AP) — Photographs bundled inside a roll of newspapers and thrust into his hands by a stranger in front of a Moscow hotel apparently were Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn's passport to arrest seconds later by Soviet police.

In the 16 days that he was imprisoned on spy charges, he told newsmen Tuesday, he was not mistreated and signed no confessions.

He said his experience has not shattered his belief that cultural exchange programs between the United States and Russia are a good thing. But the State Department still has not given a go ahead for scheduled exchange talks which the United States canceled because of the Barghoorn incident.

Professor, 52, who was released Saturday and returned home Sunday, met with State Department officials for six hours Tuesday to talk about his Moscow experience. Then he met with newsmen, telling this story:

On Oct. 31, the eve of his planned departure from Moscow, he returned to the Metro-Hotel in the Soviet capital around 7:25 p.m. Suddenly he was approached by a "youngish-looking man, carrying what looked like a roll of newspapers."

The man asked something which Barghoorn believes was: "Are you an American?"

"I was startled, said yes, and he pushed toward me the roll of newspapers. I took it. I thought, perhaps foolishly, that it was propaganda material and put it into my coat. Almost simultaneously I was grabbed and hustled off in an automobile."

He said there were photographs in the roll, adding "I would not understand military matters."

Barghoorn said that neither on this trip nor on previous visits to Russia was he on "intelligence assignment."

UAW Trying to Unionize Hope Plant

The United Auto Workers union, of which Walter P. Reuther is International President, is seeking to unionize Standard Generator Service Company and has filed a petition with the National Labor Relations Board in Memphis.

Bob Tolleson, plant manager, says that while the Company hopes that there will not be a union in its Hope operations, the Company will agree that an employee election by secret ballot may be conducted by representatives of the National Labor Relations Board.

Until about three years ago the Company, which rebuilds automotive equipment and has plants at other locations, employed about fifteen persons at the Hope Proving Grounds plant but under new ownership and with additional financing from the new owners, by transferring production from another location, operations here have been expanding and more than sixty employees are now employed.

Company officials refused to comment on what effect a union victory would have on its Hope operations.

PAMPERING DAD

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Like many girls at 14, my problem is my father. As long as I can remember I've had to keep quiet around the house. When we were very little, my brothers and I were forever being told to play outside because we made our father nervous.

My brothers, now 18 and 20, are both in the navy. They quit school and signed up because they wanted to get away from Father. Every time they did something, which wasn't often, he'd tell the world about it.

When we are home alone he hardly ever says anything to my mother or me, except if he wants something done. But when anybody comes to see us he laughs, talks and jokes until the visitor is gone then lapses into one of his dreadful moods. He has ulcers, is a chain smoker and Mother cooks only what he can eat. We share the same dull, dreary meals. No pie, no cake, nothing highly seasoned. He tells everybody about his stomach and how he should have an operation but can't afford it.

We wear clothes from the Goodwill industries and my mother does our washing in an old-fashioned wringer-type tub. Our only heat comes from fireplaces. For wood we chop up fallen trees.

One of my brothers will get his discharge from the navy soon and wants me to live with him but I hate to leave our mother whom I love dearly. Father has made me nervous. At 14 I should be strong but my hands shake so I can't hold a cup steady. Please help me.

Dear J.: Many women love to complain about men, and yet Johnson, Mrs. Sidney Allen, and Jerry Westermoland all of Prescott.

REVISED FABLE ABOUT ANT AND GRASSHOPPER

Now making the rounds is a modern version of one of Aesop's Fables and we let you decide whether you like the new or old one better. Everyone knows the story about the thrifty ant and the improvident grasshopper.

The ant worked hard all summer, putting away food for the winter. The grasshopper jumped around, having a good time and giving no thought to the future. Came wintertime and the ant, snug in his haven, ate well while the playboy grasshopper shivered and went hungry. That is the old version. Now, here is the modern one.

The ant worked hard all summer, etc., but the grasshopper just had fun, knowing that the government would take care of him and that it was no longer necessary to work hard and try to save. When winter rolled around and the ant figured he had it made for the whole season, a tax collector came by and reminded him of new laws requiring him to give up a lot of what he had saved so that the playboy grasshopper could eat well too.

Old Aesop had a vivid imagination and keen understanding of human nature but even so, he probably would have been hard put to understand the welfare state philosophy which tends to penalize initiative and thrift, and reward indolence and improvidence. —The Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger ing medical bills.

Due to my age (I'm in my late 40s), and lack of experience, no steady work comes my way. My daughter, on the other hand, is young but because of her asthmatic attacks nobody will employ her. Is there no kind soul who would give my poor girl a chance; make her feel that she is not an invalid and at the same time independent? This would be the best medication of all. Any suggestions? —Concerned Mother

She was waiting when Mrs. Roberts came from the examining room.

"What—did you find?"

"We will need the result of the smear to be sure, but I don't think you need a hysterectomy, Mrs. Roberts. I don't think," Ann watched the woman's face come alight as she spoke, "that you need an operation of any kind at this time."

"But my nervousness — I'm sorry, Doctor," Nora Roberts interrupted herself. "Please go on."

"Who is your family doctor, Mrs. Roberts?"

Mrs. Roberts said, "Dr. Lyle," and Ann felt like echoing Cass Llewellyn's "Wow!" Instead she asked, "Then it was Dr. Lyle who delivered your baby by Caesarian section?"

"Yes."

Ann kept her face carefully noncommittal. Unless some condition had been present at that time and since had corrected itself or been corrected, Dr. Lyle had been very wrong. There was no physical reason this woman could not have borne her child as Nature intended she bear it—no physical reason, that is, that she couldn't have as many more children as she and her husband wanted. The diagnostic truth skittered along the periphery of Ann's thoughts during the rest of the interview and through the remainder of afternoon office hours, which ran late today—because of the time she had given Mrs. Roberts. Dr. Mabis had seen more than his share of patients and it showed in the weariness-etched lines in his face, in the slight unsteadiness that Ann's practiced eyes noted in his blue-veined hand waving her to a chair when she entered his office.

"Sit down, Ann." And she did, "What's the matter with Nora Roberts?"

"Not the hysterectomy she has been advised is necessary

about the sincerity of the defendants on their organization "But who called on you to go around the country creating strife and spoiling the good relations we've had," he asked.

He said he looked on both Hansen and Bradford "more with pity than contempt" and said, "I would no more judge the colored race by Bradford than I would judge the white race by Hansen."

The audience of 50 — about evenly divided between white persons and Negroes — murmured several times during the judge's speech and a few white persons applauded when he was finished. Hestep quickly warned against any demonstration in the courtroom.

Hansen was the only witness for the defense. He said the SNCC believes in equality for all and works toward its goal by promoting demonstrations. He did not deny that he helped reorganize the Helena sit-ins.

Hansen and Bradford returned to jail and Howard said bond would be arranged for them.

One Negro demonstrator, Noah Washington, 20, of Pine Bluff, testified that organization of the demonstrations, the first in this Arkansas delta area, began a month ago.

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Three persons go on trial in municipal court today in connection with the first anti-segregation demonstration at Helena, staged Saturday.

They are: William Hansen, 24, of Pine Bluff, a white man; John Bradford, 22, of Mound Bayou, Miss., and Oscar Fuller, 17, of Helena, both Negroes.

They were among 32 persons arrested last Saturday following three sit-ins at Helena. Hansen and Bradford are field secretaries for the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee. Fuller is a high school student.

Hansen, formerly of Cincinnati, and Bradford are charged under a city law with breach of the peace. Fuller is the only demonstrator from Helena who pleaded innocent to charges and asked for a lawyer for trial.

George Howard Jr. of Pine Bluff, a Negro attorney and president of the Arkansas chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, arrived in Helena Tuesday night, apparently to represent the trio.

Twenty-nine of the demonstrators either pleaded guilty or were convicted without lawyers in municipal court Monday. They were fined $50 to $100 and given suspended jail sentences of 30 to 60 days.

Eight demonstrators were released Monday night in custody of their parents. Fines were paid for four other demonstrators Tuesday, leaving 17 in jail because their fines had not been paid.

1 presidential elections.

Increased terrorism also was reported from cities in the interior.

Many of the casualties in Caracas were bystanders caught in the crossfire between government forces and terrorist snipers. The dead included a 35-year-old terrorist whose legs were tattooed with a hammer and sickle.

Firing centered in the workers' districts on the outskirts of the city.

Unions defied a general strike order from the Red-line Armed Forces of National Liberation. But shootings, bombings and telephone threats to merchants had a paralyzing effect in the capital.

Schools for American children were closed. There were no reports of American casualties.

Belancourt hopes to become Venezuela's first democratically elected president to serve out a five-year term. His term ends next March.

The constitution prohibits Belancourt from succeeding himself. But his Democratic Action party's candidate, Raul Leoni, is virtually assured of defeating his six opponents in the presidential race.

Baseball to Start Big Swap Deals

NEW YORK (AP) — Their appetites whetted by the big trade involving Rocky Colavito, major league baseball owners get their chance to swing into high swapping gear beginning at midnight tonight.

That's the opening hour of the annual interleague trading period, which will run until midnight Dec. 15.

Some big names have been talked about.

Cincinnati could possibly be tempted to part with Vada Pinson, Joey Jay or Gordy Coleman, if the right bait is offered in exchange.

Three National League sluggers, Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco, Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee and Frank Thomas of the New York Mets, might be had for the right price.

Among the American League players discussed in trade rumors are Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels, Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Lu Clinton of Boston.

The American League teams seem particularly anxious to make personnel changes after the Los Angeles Dodgers proved in the World Series that the Yankees can be beaten.

That sent new hope through the league where it has been a long time since a real challenge to the Yankees was mounted.

Among the American League players discussed in trade rumors are Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels, Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Lu Clinton of Boston.

The American League teams seem particularly anxious to make personnel changes after the Los Angeles Dodgers proved in the World Series that the Yankees can be beaten.

That sent new hope through the league where it has been a long time since a real challenge to the Yankees was mounted.

Houston Joins Texas, Will Admit Negroes

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas, a state producing yearly about 10,000 Negro high school football players and some 3,500 basketball players, is beginning to let them play college ball at home.

Teams from the Big Ten, Big Eight, Big Six and other conferences in the past have raided the state of its Negro football stars. Or the athletes attended Texas Negro colleges such as Prairie View A&M and Texas Southern.

Texas is the home of football greats like Abner Haynes of the Kansas City Chiefs, Dick Lane who plays for the Detroit Lions and Junior Coffey, who's with the University of Washington Huskies.

The state's Negro high schools produced Dave Stallworth, who plays basketball at Wichita; Rafer Johnson, the Olympics champion, and Ollie Matson, the former all-NFL pro who attended Houston's Yates High School before playing college ball in California.

The best known Negro star in the state now is Warren McVea, a 170-pound speedster who led San Antonio's Brackenridge High to the state schoolboy championship last season.

Other top prospects are A. Z. Drones, 227, San Angelo tackle; James Spears, 170, Corpus Christi halfback, and Frank Lane, 205, Wink fullback.

The integration of Southwest Conference athletics came about rather quietly.

It all began when Darrell Royal, University of Texas athletic director and coach of the nation's No. 1 football team, held his regular Monday get-together with sports writers and said:

"The athletic council met with the administration this morning and we decided that any student who meets academic and athletic requirements is eligible to try out for any sport at this moment."

That statement broke the ice. Now most of the seven other members of the Southwest Conference can be expected to follow suit.

Already the University of Houston, an independent which became a state college Sept. 1, and Southern Methodist University, have served notice qualified Negro athletes are welcome.

There may be some delay at the University of Arkansas where Coach Frank Broyles said it was "too early for comment." Arkansas Gov. Orville Faubus said last week he would oppose integration of athletics in the state.

Rice University is in a unique position in that it cannot integrate under conditions set down by its founder, William Marsh Rice. There is a court suit on file, however, attempting to lift all racial restrictions at the Southwest Conference school.

But already the state's two largest schools, Texas, with 22,000 students, and Houston, with 16,000, have said they will recruit Negro athletes.

The University of Houston likely could be the first college to have Negroes competing.

Guy Lewis, the head basketball coach, has been quietly observing Negro talent for a year and is known to have been interested in recruiting David Lattin, a 6-foot-6 high school star who wound up at Tennessee State.

And it is anticipated that the Houston track team will have at least two Negro candidates this spring.

At Southern Methodist, basketball Coach Doc Hayes said he already had investigated several Negro boys but, "So far, I haven't been able to find any who can fill all the answers."

There's a good chance, however, at least a handful of Negro athletes will be trying out for at least two Texas college football teams next spring.

What effect will Texas re-

Hank Bauer Replaces Hitchcock

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hank Bauer looks upon managing the Baltimore Orioles as a simple thing.

"The ball players know me. If I ask them to do something, they'll do it for me," he believes. "They know I'm strictly for the ball player."

He displayed this camaraderie at a news conference Tuesday confirming his engagement in a one-year contract as the new Orioles manager.

During a lull in questioning by newsmen, the relaxed Bauer said to the back of the room: "Got any questions, Jim?"

"You're the only man with a job," shot back Gentile, the first baseman who is one of the Orioles' problem children.

"I don't think you have anything to worry about," said Bauer reassuringly.

Lee MacPhail, general manager, made it clear he hired Bauer to replace Billy Hitchcock in hopes he would get more out of the Orioles as individual players.

"I think he has the quality of leadership to put some spark in our ball club to change it from just another first division club to a true contender," is the way MacPhail expressed it.

The feeling for Bauer among the players was shown by the presence at the news conference of third baseman Brooks Robinson, pitchers Milt Pappas and Dick Hall in addition to Gentile.

Except for the possible acquisition of a left-hand batting outfielder, Bauer said he planned to start the same Orioles who finished fourth the past season — "until proven otherwise."

"Our most pressing problem is scoring runs," he declared. "I think the pitching is very good and the defense good."

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks went through a crisp and enthusiastic practice Tuesday as they prepared to meet Texas Tech in Fayetteville Saturday.

Trull Most Likely for All America

DALLAS (AP)—All-America prospects from the Southwest have been trimmed to a half-dozen with Don Trull, Baylor quarterback; Scott Appleton, Texas tackle, and Tony Lorick, Arizona State University fullback, getting most of the endorsements.

The regional committee also cited Dave Parks, Texas Tech end; Tommy Ford, Texas halfback, and Ronnie Caveness, Arkansas center who makes more tackles than anybody.

Walter Robertson of the Dallas News said he was sold on Appleton because the big fellow never has a poor game and played probably his finest last week when Texas levelled Texas Christian and won its ninth straight.

Robertson also continued to boost Trull. He said the Baylor quarterback always had a good day whether his team won or not. "That seems to me to be the real test of a good quarterback—able to play well even if you lose," said Robertson.

Bill Van Fleet of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram had similar sentiments, rating Appleton and Trull as the leading contenders, but adding Malcolm Walker, Rice's mighty center, and Lawrence Elkins, Baylor's great pass-receiver, among those worthy of top consideration.

Van Fleet also liked Ford and Caveness. And the latter still had strong support from Jack Keady of the Arkansas Democrat, who just doesn't think anybody is better than Caveness on defense.

Keady rated Appleton as probably the leading candidate but stayed with Trull as another good one to have on an All-America team.

Ves Box of KRLD-TV, Dallas, rated Appleton No. 1 but thought Parks was a very close second and that Trull was as good as they come.

Lorick is the big, fast fullback who can do anything in football. If he's stopped with his running he will do some nifty passing and he'll top it all off with excellent defense. For instance, Lorick got only 27 yards rushing against Wyoming but he intercepted a pass and ran it back 59 yards for a touchdown.

Frank Gianelli of the Arizona Republic is sold on Lorick and he also has the backing of Carlos Salazar of the Albuquerque Tribune.

Martha Likes Quarterback Just as Well

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Paul Martha plays halfback for Pitt—and he plays it exceptionally well—but he'd just as soon play quarterback.

Pitt Athletic Director Frank Carver has called him the best Panther running back since the great Marshall Goldberg was making headlines in the late 1930s and Army's Paul Dietzel said before last Saturday's game that "Paul Martha is probably the best college football player in the country."

The senior halfback didn't do anything to change either opinion with his performance against the Cadets—six carries for 103 yards gained and a touchdown.

With such raves and performances to give them credence one might wonder why Martha would say, "I think I like quarterback as much as halfback."

The answer isn't a difficult one. Martha had an outstanding prep career as a quarterback at Shadyide Academy in Pittsburgh and was the Panthers' front line signal caller before being switched to halfback last season.

However, to say that Martha is unhappy about being switched to halfback would be wrong.

"I have no regrets, absolutely not," he said in the locker room after the victory over Army. "Besides we probably couldn't have a better quarterback than Fred (Mazurek). I'd rather be a quarterback this year."

Two Unbeatens Finish Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Arkansas high school football teams have finished their seasons unbeaten, and two will meet on Thanksgiving Day.

Holly Grove and Clarendon, both unbeaten after 10 games, meet Thanksgiving Day in the District 6B playoff.

Danville of 4B has finished 9-0 and Harding Academy of 2B closed 8-0.

Pine Bluff of the Big Ten Conference is 9-0-1, but plays Hot Springs this weekend, and Hot Springs Lakeside of 5A-South is 9-0-1 and plays Nashville this weekend.

Unbeaten and untied after 10 games are Fort Smith St. Anne's of 4A, Piggott of 3A and Warren of 8A-North. Warren has two games to play, St. Anne's and Piggott have one each.

The Muleriders' victory equalled the number of triumphs they had all last season.

Coach W. T. Watson is new at the Southern State basketball helm. Charles Jones, a freshman from Banks, pumped in 23 points for Southern. Gayle Driver hit 14 for the Tigers.

Michigan S. Player Named for Honor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When you've got Michigan State backed up against their own goal line, watch out.

Notre Dame penned the Spartans on their 15-yard line in the fourth quarter Saturday, and a 7-6 Irish lead was looking good.

Then Sherman Lewis, only 152 pounds, burst all the way for the touchdown that gave Michigan State a 12-7 victory.

It was the fifth time this year that Sherman had gone more than 80 yards, and the run earned the senior co-captain of the Spartans the Back of the Week honor in The Associated Press survey.

Lewis, who comes from Louisville, Ky., also scored the first Michigan State touchdown. He was the leading rusher for the Spartans with 138 yards and played on defense most of the game.

It was a good Saturday for running backs, elsewhere. Junior fullback Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest led his team to a 20-19 victory over South Carolina, breaking the nation's longest major college losing streak at 18. Piccolo gained 140 yards in 21 rushes and started the comeback from a 19-7 deficit with a 16-yard touchdown run. Then he kicked the game-winning extra point.

Paul Martha, Pitt's left halfback, scored on a long run for the second week in a row to start the victory over Army. He had 103 yards on six carries.

Fullback Steve Murphy gained 103 yards for Northwestern, more than the entire Ohio State team, and had two touchdowns.

Sophomore halfback Larry Shields scored both touchdowns for Oklahoma against Missouri, one on a blistering punt return, and made two important pass interceptions.

Two quarterbacks, Terry Isaacson of Air Force and Archie Roberts of Columbia, were outstanding. Isaacson scored twice, set up three other touchdowns and a field goal.

AIC Cage Teams to Open Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball teams opened their seasons Tuesday night, and all won.

Arkansas State Teachers College whipped Lambuth College of Jackson, Tenn., 90-68; Hendrix rolled over Southern Baptist College of Walnut Ridge, 96-84; and Southern State tipped East Texas Baptist College at Marshall, Tex., 71-62.

The Bears of Conway got 43 free throws to top Lambuth. Tom Davis crammed in 28 points for Teachers and Farris Holmes hit 27 for the losers.

Hendrix raced to a 59-35 half-time lead and six Warriors scored in double figures. Joe Murphy, 6-5 Hendrix center, led the Warriors with 17 points, but may have suffered a fracture of the right arm in a plunge against a wall. Tommy Tyler put in 16 for Hendrix.
